Reminder: Please complete & return Parent Opinion Surveys
Thank you to everyone who has already returned their completed survey. To make your opinion count, please return them to the office by this Friday, 31st July. Thank you.

New Soccer Goals
Our new soccer goals have nets! Squeals of delight from our soccer fans can be heard at recess and lunch time as many students take advantage of the new addition to the playground. There is one poor area of drainage behind one of the goal areas, which is being investigated and a plan is in place. The upcoming working bee on Sunday, 16th August will be working on gardens and any other problem areas in our grounds.

Level 4 Gardening Club
Congratulations to the garden club that meets on Tuesday lunchtimes. They have shifted compost and done some cooking using vegetables from the garden. The group, which is made up of students from level 4 only, keenly give up their lunchtime to be back in the gardens, working with Mr Khay Le and Mr Ian Barr.

Principal Conference
Ian Bunston and I attended the biannual Monash Waverley 2015 Leadership Conference in Torquay last week. This was an excellent conference with 3 quality presenters on Wellbeing- Andrew Fuller, Maria Ruberto and Craig Hassed.

Andrew Fuller is a clinical psychologist who has worked with many schools and communities in Australia and internationally, specialising in the wellbeing of young people and their families. Andrew has established programs for the promotion of mental health in schools. I have included an event run by Whitehorse City Council with Andrew speaking to families about the importance of resilience on Tuesday, September 2nd in the newsletter. Turn over for more information about the Forum.

Maria Ruberto is a psychologist who is the founder and director of Salutegenics Psychology, a strengths based practice that moves people in personal and professional coaching towards mental fitness and life health. The core mission of her work is to transition people towards a state of flourishing, embedding respect, resilience and resolve along the way. Maria has worked extensively with beyondblue.

Dr Craig Hassed is a GP and Senior Lecturer in the Monash University of General Practice and Co-ordinator of Mindfulness Programs. His teaching, research and clinical interests include mindfulness based stress management, meditation, health promotion, integrated medicine and medical ethics.

The message over the 3 days of the conference is that the mental health of all directly impacts on an organisation such as a school and in the very busy world we are in. The importance of mindfulness is to reduce anxiety and improve attention and learning. The increased rates of anxiety, depression and suicide are highly concerning. Research on reducing anxiety and depression and managing stress has indicated the importance of:

- Adequate sleep
- A healthy diet
- Regular sustained exercise
- Optimism

This year at Rangeview all students are involved in the program Just Get Active. This is a classroom program that covers elements of health such as balance, cardio and strength. Sessions end with mindfulness time for deep breathing and reflection to improve attention and learning. It can begin the day or later in a learning session.

Are you a Parent or a carer of a Child With a Disability?
As part of the Victorian Government commitment to make Victoria the Education State, the Department of Education and Training has begun a review into how schools can better support students with special needs – including those with autism and dyslexia. The review into the Program for Students with disabilities includes the opportunity for parents to tell the Department what they think of the current program and how it can be improved.

Renowned human rights practitioner and Australia's former Disability Commissioner, Dr Graeme Innes, will lead face-to-face consultations for the review which is designed to guide and improve our Department's approach to providing support to students with additional needs. You can get involved by taking an online survey which will be available from September via: www.education.vic.gov.au/specialneedsplan
Your responses will help shape the Education State and encourage creative solutions to providing outstanding special needs education in Victoria.

National Disability Data Collection
Some families will be receiving a letter or phone call from Rangeview seeking approval for their child to be included in this nation wide data collection. All classroom teachers have allocated time to reflect on their classes and consider the level of adjustment in the learning environment for individual students and whether this student should be included in the data. This is the second year for this collection of data and Mr Bunston is coordinating this program.

Whitehorse City Council Parent Information Forum - Building Resilience in Adolescents
The City of Whitehorse is hosting a very relevant forum in which clinical psychologist Andrew Fuller will explore how parents can assist their children and adolescents to build resilience. He is a Fellow of the Department of Psychiatry and the Department of Learning and Educational Development at the University of Melbourne as well as the author of Tricky Kids, Tricky Teens, Raising Real People and the newly published Unlocking your Child's Genius.
A flyer with more information about the evening on Tuesday, 1st September (7.30pm-9.30pm) is on the last page of this newsletter. Please book tickets online (cost $10 per person) through: www.whitehorse.vic.gov.au/Parent-Information-Forums.html

BUILDING RESILIENCE IN ADOLESCENTS

When young people are resilient, they cope better with difficult situations. They “bounce back” when things go wrong. We all need resilience to navigate life’s ups and downs, so building resilience is an important part of child and adolescent development.

Research conducted by Resilient Youth Australia on over 15,000 young people gives us a clear picture of the strengths and vulnerabilities of young people as well as what we can all do to promote great lives for our kids.

In this forum clinical psychologist Andrew Fuller will explore how parents can assist their children and adolescents to build resilience. Andrew works with many schools and communities in Australia and internationally, specialising in the wellbeing of young people and their families. He is a Fellow of the Department of Psychiatry and the Department of Learning and Educational Development at the University of Melbourne as well as the author of Tricky Kids, Tricky Teens. Raising Real People and the newly published Unlocking your Child’s Genius.
